Students with Disabilities:
a guide to sources of information

The Careers Service is committed to making its full range of services available to all students. Whether you are a wheelchair user, visually impaired, dyslexic, or have another disability, we can help you with careers information, guidance and advice whilst taking into account all your personal circumstances.

If you require assistance using any of the services provided by the Careers Service, or require specialised assistance, please contact any member of staff, who will be more than willing to help or you can phone or e-mail us, and we will ensure that any information you decide to give us is treated confidentially.

DEFINITION OF DISABILITY

The Disability Discrimination Act (DDA) defines disability as 'a physical or mental impairment which has a substantial and long-term adverse effect on a person's ability to carry out normal day-to-day activities'.

The Act states that:

• It is unlawful for an employer to discriminate against any disabled person who is applying for a job or is in employment
• Certain disabilities may preclude individuals from some areas of employment but all reasonable alternatives should be explored
• Employers must make ‘reasonable allowances’ in the selection procedures (e.g. providing documents in large font, extra reading time, etc.)
• Employers must make ‘reasonable adjustments’ to the working environment to accommodate disabled employees (e.g. adapted telephones, voice activated software, etc.)
• Where an applicant has disclosed a disability, employers must make ‘reasonable’ allowances in selection procedures (e.g. providing documents in enlarged fonts)

SERVICES WE OFFER

We have an information section specifically for students with special needs and, on request, can provide coloured pastel paper for photocopying and printing. The Careers Service provides a range of information and services for all students and clients, including:

• Careers information, advice and guidance
• CV, application and covering letter feedback
• Careers talks and workshops
• Careers education in departments
• Mock interviews and 20 or 40 Minute consultations with a Careers Consultant
• Email vacancy/event service
• Vacancy listings for graduate recruitment/part-time jobs/vacation work
• Careers fairs and forums and employer presentations

Please note that you can notify Careers Service staff if you wish to make audio recordings of careers workshops or presentations using your phone or a sound recorder.

SPECIFIC SOURCES OF INFORMATION

The Employers Forum on Disability (wwwefd.org.uk) - This is an organisation that seeks to improve the job prospects of disabled people by making it easier for employers to recruit, retain and develop disabled employees. Companies that are members of this show an interest in providing opportunities for those in their workforce who may be disabled.

JobsLive - Job vacancies are available from through our website, as are links to various organisations who work with disabled students. The Careers Service website has been built with accessibility in mind.

Imperial Disabilities Advisory Service and EmployAbility - We work closely with this service and advertise vacancies specifically for students with disabilities. We also hold information from organisations, such as EmployAbility, that specifically target disabled students for recruitment. We hold a wide range of information on disability issues from employers, training organisations and other agencies that cover legislation, education and lists of employers that are positive about disability in employment. Alternative formats of our information can be provided on request.

Careers Service publications, such as ‘The Imperial Guide to Career Planning’ (our guide for all Imperial students), are available to download from our website - www.imperial.ac.uk/careers

Imperial College Careers Service is a member of AGCAS (the Association of Graduate Careers Advisory Services), which has a disability Sub-Committee. All staff therefore have access to individuals with specialist knowledge on a range of disabilities.

ADVICE AND GUIDANCE
Experience has shown that the core needs of all students seeking employment or wishing to undertake postgraduate studies are similar, but there are some organisations that provide specialised help for students with particular needs (see section below).
If you require help accessing information, or require specialised help, please ask any member of staff, who will be more than willing to help.
You can see a Careers Consultant to discuss any career-related issue. All information is treated in strict confidence.
