Doctoral Landscape Award (DLA) project

Professor Jason Hallett

October 2027 start

Renewable textile materials produced from ionic liquid biorefinery products

This project will explore next-generation products formed from ionic liquid based cellulose pulps and lignin. The focus will be on textile fibres and other applications.