BUILDING UPDATES

North site

Sir Michael Uren Hub
Contractors ISG completed final landscaping works in December.

School of Public Health
Enabling works for the new School of Public Health are due to start in January. The first stage drainage works are complete. The next stage of works, which includes site-wide utility and ground investigations, will be delivered in phases from January.

Hoardings around the site are being refreshed. The first phase of work will be completed in January.

Scale Space

Contractors Western Building Systems have continued to make progress on the Scale Space buildings. The installation of modular units at Building B is almost complete, while works to make the building water tight are due to begin. The scope for infrastructure works necessary for Buildings B and C has concluded. These works are expected to begin in the first quarter of 2020.

OTHER WORKS ON CAMPUS

The first of two transformers for the new electrical substation was delivered in early December. Located on Imperial land below the Westway, the substation will be operated by UK Power Networks and will provide future electrical capacity to the White City Campus and wider area.

Special arrangements were made to support the combined weight of almost 100 tonnes of the transformer and its delivery vehicle. Construction of the substation is progressing well toward its expected power-on date in early 2021.
