BUILDING UPDATES

Residential Tower
Following a delay to the completion of the Residential Tower, contractors Laing O’Rourke continued to work on site during December. Laing O’Rourke will remain on site in January.

Michael Uren Biomedical Engineering Research Hub
In December, contractors ISG progressed with the internal fit-out of the building, along with glazing, balcony installation and roof works. ISG also installed the building maintenance unit on the building’s roof. During January, ISG will begin to install flooring and laboratory furniture, and will start landscaping works around the base of the building.

South site

Scale Space
During December, contractors Erith continued with the installation of deep drainage on the roads on the Scale Space site, while Western Building Systems, started pilling and ground works on site.

In January, Western Building Systems will continue with building foundations and will begin to install pile caps and ground beams that will hold the modular building system.
