

RefWorks: importing references from Nature

With some online resources you cannot export references directly into RefWorks. Instead you must save the references in a text file and then import it into RefWorks.

- Conduct your search and click on the title for the record you want to export
- Click on the Citation button
- Save the file in RIS format

N.B. the download citation option is not available for all content in Nature.

- Log into your RefWorks account and from the References menu select Import
- For Import Filter/Data Source select RIS Format
- For Database select RIS Format
- Click Browse and locate your saved file
- Click on Import
- Your saved references will be imported into RefWorks
