3 Major Modifications – In-Year Changes to Existing Programmes

3.1 PC.2018.112 MSc Business Analytics (Online)

3.1.1 The Committee considered a proposal from the Imperial College Business School to change the exam format of the module 'Fundamentals of Database Technologies' of the above programme from a computer-based exam to a written exam due to take place July 2019.

3.1.2 The Committee held discussions around the parity of student experience of the on-campus and online students and queried why the online student would not be able to sit the same assessment as the on-campus students. Members shared their concern around the fairness of how the online students would be assessed in comparison to the on-campus who would be sitting a computer-based exam.

3.1.3 The Deputy President (Education) expressed their concern around how the student consultation had been conducted as in-session changes require the consent of the student cohort prior to approval of the proposal.

3.1.4 The programme team are advised to reconsider the proposed modification and if an alternative solution could be put in place to ensure parity across the cohort.
