COLLEGE NOTICE

SENIOR STAFF APPOINTMENTS IN BUSINESS SCHOOL AND COLLEGE PROJECTS

DIRECTOR OF OPERATIONS FOR THE BUSINESS SCHOOL

Mr Jon Tucker has accepted appointment as Director of Operations for the Business School in succession to Mr Stephen Reid and will take up this position in March 2009.

Following his science degree at Cambridge, Mr Tucker occupied a range of commercial roles within Lloyds Bank including three years as Senior Manager Executive Development. In 1999 he joined the Science Museum as an Assistant Director, becoming its operational Head in 2002. In 2007 he became Director of Corporate Services for the NMSI group, supporting the Science Museum, the National Railway Museum and the National Media Museum.

PROGRAMME DIRECTOR

Dr Neil Varey, currently Faculty Operating Officer for Engineering, will move to a newly created position as Programme Director responsible for delivering on a number of College-wide projects with effect from 1 February 2009. Reporting to Dr Martin Knight, Chief Operating Officer, Dr Varey will lead on Imperial's development of the UK's first Proton Beam Therapy Centre and, in association with Professor David Gann, the development of the College's response to Corporate Social Responsibility.

Prior to joining the College in 2004, Dr Varey occupied a number of senior positions within the waste and environment service industry including heading an international environmental consultancy group for AEA Technology.

The College will be advertising shortly for a successor to Dr Varey's current post.
