Identification of training needs (Oct 2010)

These matrices are designed to assist with Training Needs Analysis. They show the basic requirements for various categories of staff and students within the Dept.

Additional local ('on the job') health and safety training will be required for specific tasks. These should be identified through an assessment of the hazards and risks arising from the activities undertaken.
Please note - Contact the Faculty Safety Manager if you are planning on attending a College safety training course that requires a fee before you book onto the course. Where appropriate the Faculty have agreed to pay for College safety courses.