Q. Are there any costs associated with the programme?

A. The Pathways to Medicine programme is fully funded (free to participants), which includes all course fees and materials. You will need to arrange your own travel.

Q. When will the sessions happen?

A. Pathways to Medicine is run over a couple of years with an event every three or four months, but the exact timing of these events varies. The Welcome Event for the programme will take place on the evening of 20 March 2020 and all successful applicants will be expected to attend.

Other events include; a Junior Conference on a Sunday in early December 2020, a non-residential summer school in early July 2021, a Senior Conference on a Sunday in late September 2021 and an interview workshop on a Saturday in mid-October 2021. There will also be taster events taking place over the course of each academic year and ongoing ementoring with a current medical student. In addition, each student is organised a hospital work placement during Year 12 (on the condition of their engagement in the rest of the programme).

Q. Where will the sessions happen?

A. Most sessions take place on our South Kensington campus. Some taster events and parts of the summer school take place on our Charing Cross Hospital and Hammersmith Hospital campuses and work placements are usually in central London hospitals. Details for each event will be shared with participants before each event.

Q. How long will the programme last?

A. Students will stay on the programme for around two to three years until the end of their Year 13 studies.

Q. If I don’t get a place, can I pay and still come?

A. No, we have a limited number of spaces and these are given according to our eligibility criteria.
