Role: Associate Professor in Lung Development and Disease

Bio: I run a research group looking at the mechanisms of lung regeneration and I am also the senior welfare tutor for PGR students. It was because of my role as welfare tutor that I wanted to undertake mental health welfare training. We are a network of trained people who can help students and colleagues if you don't know where to turn or become suddenly overwhelmed with things. We operate very much like 'first aiders' who can help if you incur a physical injury at work. No appointment needed just pop by or get in touch.
