GUIDANCE / INFORMATION FOR EXCHANGE STUDENTS (non-degree visiting students) APPLYING TO IMPERIAL COLLEGE LONDON

Erasmus Study Exchange and other official student exchange programmes
Compiled by the Registry and applies to admissions in the period 2018-2019

Key information is highlighted in yellow
Please ensure you read the entire document

If you are intending to apply for a study period during 2019-20 we advise you to await the guidance for 2019-20 (available January 2019)

This information is relevant should Imperial College have a bi-lateral student exchange agreement with your university/college, in your subject area, for the academic year 2018-19. Please contact the relevant exchange programme co-ordinator at your home university/college for further advice.

Important Notice: Global Innovation Design (GID): Students attending the GID programme as exchange students from relevant partner universities will apply to the Royal College of Art, and not to Imperial College. However, the host department at Imperial College is the Dyson School of Design Engineering. There is no requirement to read the remainder of this guidance document if you are applying for a non-degree exchange place on the GID programme.

Is Imperial College London the appropriate study abroad option for you?

You can only be considered for selection by your home university/college as an exchange student to Imperial College if your home university/college has an active/valid bi-lateral student exchange agreement with Imperial College, in your subject area, for the academic year 2018-19.

You should also think carefully about your own suitability for an exchange in the United Kingdom; in London; at Imperial College.

Contact the relevant exchange programme co-ordinator or office at your home university/college for advice on being an exchange student, and the process for selection for any valid/relevant exchange link with Imperial College.

Only students who are selected by their university/college may apply to Imperial College as an exchange student.

Students applying within the framework of the European Commission's Erasmus+ Programme should note that ERASMUS institutional code for Imperial College is UKLONDON015.

Selection by your home university/college to study at Imperial College as an exchange student

You must be selected by your home university/college to study at Imperial College as an exchange student before you can apply to Imperial College as an exchange student.

NEXT STEP IF you have been selected: ensure that you have READ this guidance/information note carefully; especially the section below entitled “planning a programme of study at Imperial College”.

However, if you are a student planning to undertake a project as an Erasmus “traineeship” student (which is normally a non-reciprocal/non-exchange activity), please ensure you read the information on Erasmus “traineeships”, as the College would not normally consider you for admission as an exchange student and may have a different method of hosting you.

Partner universities/colleges will normally email the name of the selected student (and their email address) to either the Exchange Co-ordinator at Imperial College (Adrian Hawksworth) or the departmental exchange co-ordinator (see table below), and Imperial College will email the student to inform them “how to apply” (i.e. refer them to this document).

All students applying to Imperial College as an exchange student must attach a letter from their home university/college to their on-line study application confirming their selection (“nomination”). See later section: How to submit a formal study application at Imperial College.

Planning a programme of study (or study plan) at Imperial College

- You are advised to ask the exchange programme co-ordinator or office at your home university/college as to the normal composition (content) of a study plan for an exchange student - in the relevant subject area - at Imperial College.

- While Imperial College will help facilitate requests to take specific courses/modules (e.g. those which your home university have indicated would match with a course/module at your home university/college) we cannot guarantee access. Access to some courses/modules is also restricted for our own students.

What should you consider first?

- You can only apply to one academic department.
o An exchange student is expected to be in full-time attendance at Imperial College (i.e. pursuing their study plan on a full-time basis). The normal expectation is that an exchange student admitted to Imperial College will undertake a study plan which equals a full student “workload” (see later references to “credit”).

o Imperial College does not operate a semester system. A trimester system (3 academic terms) is in use. See page 11 for Term Dates.
  - Admission to the Faculty of Engineering and the Faculty of Natural Sciences is normally for a full academic year unless you are advised otherwise by the exchange programme co-ordinator at your home university and the departmental exchange programme co-ordinator at Imperial College. For example, a student attending to undertake a project will often attend for less than a full academic year.
  - Admission to both the Imperial College Business School and the Imperial College School of Medicine are for short periods, normally no greater than 6 months.

o A study plan should focus heavily on the applicant’s major degree subject. The inclusion of minor subjects (e.g. humanities, languages, management) in a study plan should be strictly limited, and an exchange applicant should be guided by the exchange programme co-ordinator at their home university and the departmental exchange programme co-ordinator at Imperial College.
  - see later section entitled “Studying at Imperial: General Guidance (Curriculum, Credit & Timetables)” for guidance on obtaining curriculum information and asking questions.

o If necessary, your exchange programme co-ordinator may contact his/her counterpart at Imperial College to discuss your proposed study plan:
  - see table below for a list of exchange co-ordinators in the Faculties of Engineering and Natural Sciences;
  - see further down for contacts in “other” departments at the College;

o If you are seeking to undertake a study plan which will (only) be a non-curriculum (at Imperial) research-based project (i.e. an “independent” project) then we would normally expect you to find a suitable project supervisor at Imperial College (and to have their provisional approval to host you) before applying on-line to study at Imperial College. Please also note that Imperial College does not normally allocate ECTS credit points to successfully completed “independent” projects.

o Please note the Imperial College Business School does not offer access to undergraduate-level courses/modules to exchange students, unless they are provided through a host (faculty of) engineering department or (faculty of) natural science department, and then on a strictly limited basis.

Imperial College Business School: Prospective postgraduate applicants from approved student exchange partners should contact Dr Sarah Wilsey, Programme Manager: sarah.wilsey@imperial.ac.uk W: www.imperial.ac.uk/business-school

Imperial College School of Medicine: please note that the School has only one exchange programme (undergraduate level with the Tokyo Medical and Dental University) and students selected to participate by TMDU will be provided with relevant contact details at Imperial College by the School of Medicine.

Important: If you happen to be a nominated exchange student seeking admission to any other department within the College you are advised to contact exchangestudents@imperial.ac.uk for relevant contact details.

If you remain in doubt about whom the exchange programme co-ordinator is at Imperial College please email exchangestudents@imperial.ac.uk

Studying at Imperial: General Guidance (Curriculum, Credit & Timetables)

An exchange student must apply to one academic department. An exchange student cannot apply to more than one academic department.

- The curriculum (course structure and content) for a particular subject area at either undergraduate or postgraduate level is published on the website of the relevant academic department (i.e. there is no central catalogue of the College’s entire curriculum). More detail on how to make enquiries about course structure and content (courses/modules) is provided later in this section.

- While Imperial College will help facilitate requests to take specific courses/modules (e.g. those which your home university have indicated would match with a course/module at your home... university/college) we cannot guarantee access. Access to some courses/modules is also restricted for our own students.

- While most academic departments teach a course/module (including project modules) over the period of a single term (a single tri-semester), some academic departments teach course/modules across two or even three terms. For further information on the teaching methods used by Imperial College click here.

- Sometimes an exchange student might wish to undertake a course/module for which they do not have the pre-requisite prior to arrival at Imperial. This is only possible after consultation with the exchange programme co-ordinator at your home university and the departmental exchange programme co-ordinator at Imperial College. For example, it might prove possible for a study plan to include the required course/module (in Term 1) which satisfies the pre-requisite for another course/module, but naturally the former would need to be completed and the outcome of the assessment known before the start of the other course/module (in Term 2), and that cannot always be guaranteed.

- Credit at Imperial College London (ECTS : European Credit Transfer System)
  - The normal expectation is that an exchange student admitted to Imperial College will undertake a study plan which equals a full student “workload” (60 ECTS for a full academic year; 90 ECTS for a full calendar year; pro-rata for shorter period).
  - If your home university/college requires you to indicate in your study plan (e.g. your learning agreement) the ECTS value for each course/module (excepting “independent” projects which do not have ECTS allocated) those ECTS values should appear in the curriculum document (course catalogue) available on the website of the academic department you wish to apply to (see further down).
  - Imperial College will also make appropriate reference to ECTS within a.) an exchange student’s study plan (e.g. “Learning Agreements for Studies” for Erasmus students) and b.) any transcript it issues to an exchange student upon completion of their study period which details the results of any formal assessments (e.g. exams). See later section entitled “academic recognition” below.

- VERY IMPORTANT: Course/Module Timetables (for courses/modules in a single academic department) are normally published by the host academic department during September, and occasionally not until the beginning of the academic year; therefore a programme of study is often not confirmed until the exchange student has arrived at the College. Expect to have to make modifications to an initial study plan (e.g. Learning Agreement for Studies for Erasmus students) after arrival at the College.

- Formal examinations mostly take place in the third (summer) term. However, there are many exceptions and the host academic department will advise an exchange student prior to their arrival or as soon as possible thereafter. Exam timetables are normally published by the host academic department during the relevant academic year and not before.

Undergraduate Study Plans

- School of Medicine: undergraduate exchange applicants will be advised directly by the School of Medicine as to the content of their study plan.

- The Undergraduate Curriculum in the Faculties of Engineering and Natural Sciences provides detailed information on all courses/modules taught at bachelor and masters level (BEng/BSc curricula and BEng/MSc curricula).
  - An undergraduate curriculum is provided for each academic department in the Faculties of Engineering and Natural Sciences but – very importantly - you will need to contact the academic department for an up-to-date document or weblink. Please review our curriculum portal for undergraduate exchange students’ enquiries. An undergraduate curriculum might also refer to courses/modules in languages, humanities and management which are available to undergraduate students studying in a particular engineering or science department. You can also explore such options in our Horizon’s Programme.
  - A study plan should focus heavily on the exchange student’s (major) degree subject at their home university/college. The inclusion of non-major-degree courses/modules (e.g. humanities, languages, management) in a study plan should be strictly limited, and an exchange
A study plan should be based on courses/modules taught by the host academic department at undergraduate level.

If you experience problems locating the ECTS value please review our curriculum portal for undergraduate exchange students’ enquiries for a suitable administrative contact or contact the departmental exchange programme co-ordinator at Imperial College.

While the host academic department will consider requests to take specific courses/modules (e.g. those which your home university have indicated would match with a course/module at your home university/college), including courses/modules at postgraduate level (where such postgraduate courses/modules are not available as part of the undergraduate [MSci/MEng] curriculum) we cannot guarantee access, especially at postgraduate level. Access to some courses/modules are also restricted for our own students, and our own undergraduates cannot take a course/module which is only provided as part of a postgraduate programme so do not be surprised nor disappointed if requests are refused.

However, it is reasonable for an exchange student to construct a study plan which incorporates courses/modules from different years of the relevant undergraduate curriculum at Imperial College (with the possible exception of courses/modules offered to our student in Year 1), unless the host academic department advises otherwise. However, since our timetables are constructed (naturally) to deliver teaching for our fee-paying degree students there are likely to be timetable clashes if you were to select courses/modules from different years of the undergraduate curriculum. Please try to select from a single year of the undergraduate curriculum as far as is possible.

Please do not seek to take courses/modules taught by “other” academic departments unless approval is obtained from the host academic department and your home university. Access to such courses/modules cannot be guaranteed.

- To repeat: it is very important that an exchange student does not approach other academic departments for access to courses/modules unless they have the approval of their host academic department. Therefore such requests normally take place after an exchange student has arrived at Imperial College and have had an opportunity to discuss their study plan face to face with the host department's exchange programme co-ordinator.

- If it is agreed that an exchange student can explore the possibility of undertaking a course/module taught by another academic department (i.e. a course/module which is not available to a regular student of your host academic department) the host academic department will normally expect the exchange student to arrange such access themselves. The exchange student will need to be responsible for ensuring that they meet the needs/demands of the “other” academic department, including a.) fulfilling the attendance requirements for the course/module (for example, we cannot guarantee that you would not incur timetable clashes); b.) the coursework requirements of the course/module; and c.) being able to attend for examinations (for example, we cannot guarantee that you would not incur exam timetable clashes).

- Exam results and results of other assessments for courses/modules taught by “other” academic departments (i.e. a course/module which is not available to a regular student of your host academic department) must be communicated by the “other” academic department to the exchange student’s “host” academic department for reporting to the College alongside their main exam results/assessments. It would be the exchange student’s responsibility to ensure this happens.

Very Important: The majority of engineering and physical science students who are studying at their home university in engineering/physical sciences at masters level (including if you expect to be a masters level student by the time you plan to be studying at Imperial College as an exchange student) will be instructed by either the exchange programme co-ordinator at their home university or the exchange programme co-ordinator at Imperial College to select from the final year (Year 4) of the relevant Undergraduate Curriculum. This is the norm.

When an exchange student wishes to undertake a Horizons course (as referenced above) in addition to their formal study plan they are advised to think carefully about their overall workload before doing so.

Postgraduate Study Plans

- If you are a doctoral (PhD) student then the study period would normally be research-focused.
- Access to postgraduate courses is not normally allowed as part of a research-focused study period, unless agreed to by the relevant academic staff (and if agreed, then it is normally... restricted to attendance at lectures, with no access to formal exams/assessments). Speak to your proposed supervisor at Imperial College if this is a concern.

- If you are a masters level student (including if you expect to be a masters level student by the time you plan to be studying at Imperial College as an exchange student) and have been instructed by your home university and by the relevant departmental exchange co-ordinator at Imperial College to base a study plan on attendance as a non-degree student on a postgraduate programme (MSc or MBA curriculum) then you can find the relevant curriculum information via the Postgraduate Prospectus at: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/pg/.

- Applicants to the Imperial College Business School should contact Dr Sarah Wilsey (see above for contact details).

- An exchange student should not seek to take postgraduate courses/modules taught by other academic departments unless you gain the approval of the host academic dept and their home university. Access to such courses/modules cannot be guaranteed.
  - To repeat: it is very important that an exchange student does not approach another academic department(s) for access to courses/modules unless they have the approval of their host academic department. Normally an exchange student would undertake such actions after their arrival at Imperial College.
  - If it is agreed that an exchange can explore the possibility of undertaking a course/module taught by another academic department (i.e. a course/module which is not available to a regular student of your host academic department) the host academic department will normally expect the exchange student to arrange such access themselves. The exchange student would need to be responsible for ensuring that they meet the needs/demands of the “other” academic department, including a.) fulfilling the attendance requirements for the course/module (for example, we cannot guarantee that there would not be timetable clashes); b.) the coursework requirements of the course/module; and c.) being able to attend for examinations (e.g., we cannot guarantee there will be exam timetable clashes).
  - Exam results and the results of other assessments for courses/modules taught by “other” academic departments (i.e. a course/module which is not available to a regular student of the host academic department) must be communicated by the “other” academic department to the “host” academic department for reporting to the College with the exchange student’s main exam results/assessments. It would be the exchange student’s responsibility to ensure this happens.

- Please note that the majority of engineering and physical science exchange students who are studying at their home university at masters level will be instructed by either the exchange programme co-ordinator at their home university or the exchange programme co-ordinator at Imperial College to select from the final year (Year 4) of the relevant Undergraduate Curriculum in the admitting department and not the postgraduate curriculum. Such exchange students would normally apply to study at Imperial College as an undergraduate.

Academic Recognition and Credit Transfer

- Academic Recognition: the exchange student’s home university/college is responsible for deciding whether a study period at Imperial can be recognised as part of the exchange student’s degree.

- Credit Transfer:
  - It is also the responsibility of the exchange student’s home university/college to consider how academic workload (i.e. time spent studying at Imperial College) and any grades/marks (i.e. official outcomes of any formal assessments/examinations a student undertakes at Imperial College) are transferred from the Imperial system to the system of the home university/college.
  - A student who undertakes formal assessments/examinations will have a transcript sent by Imperial College (two hard copies) to their home university/college (no earlier than August). One of the copies is intended for the student. The transcript will formally list the outcomes of any formal assessments/examinations, including the ECTS credit awarded if a course/module has been passed. The student has undertaken at Imperial College. ECTS is not awarded when a course/module is failed. The “pass” mark is 40%.
  - However, please remember that “independent” projects (i.e. projects which are not identified on Imperial College's curriculum) will not be formally assessed by Imperial. Therefore, “independent” projects would normally be formally assessed by the home university/college (including the allocation of any credit).

- Important: Please remember that you should apply as an “undergraduate” if you are a masters level student at your home university (who is studying an engineering or physical science subject) but who has been advised by either their home university or Imperial College to propose a study plan from the MEng/MSci undergraduate curriculum.
  - You may only select one Programme Title, i.e. one host academic department.

Note 2: Are you an Exchange Student or a non-Exchange Student? (TAB/Screen 1 of the application: entitled “Personal”)
- You are asked a Question about your status (Exchange or Non-Exchange). Please ensure you complete this question precisely as it changes the subsequent fields to be completed.

Note 3: Documents which an Exchange applicant should attach to TAB/Screen 1: “Personal”
- A statement from your home university confirming your nomination to study as an exchange student (Compulsory).
- Attach your proposed study plan (Compulsory). For example, an Erasmus applicant would attach their “learning agreement for studies”.

Important:

Imperial College DOES NOT normally allow study periods which require contributions of formal teaching from more than one academic department and/or from both the undergraduate curriculum (BEng/MEng/BSc/MSci) and postgraduate curriculum (MSc/MRes) unless:

1. that formal teaching provided by the non-admitting academic department is normally available to full-degree students of the admitting academic department,

or

2. you are an Erasmus or other exchange student and you have been advised by the exchange programme co-ordinator at your home university and the relevant departmental exchange programme co-ordinator at Imperial College that such access can be arranged.

However, you still can only apply to one academic department.

Note 4: Documents which an Exchange applicant should attach to TAB/Screen 2 (“Experience”)
- (All Applicants: Compulsory) A Transcript of your current studies at your home university/college. A transcript is an official document produced by your home university/college listing the courses attended, examinations/assessments taken and results/grades achieved. Please attach a version in English if at all possible.

Note 5: Guidance on English Language Proficiency PLUS the Documents which an Exchange applicant should attach to TAB/Screen 3 (“Additional Questions”: English Language Ability):
- It is very important that an exchange student’s English language skills (reading, listening, speaking and writing) are sufficient for them to study successfully at Imperial College. Therefore, the College requires all students to submit acceptable evidence of their English language proficiency (at the time of their application to study at Imperial College). For an exchange applicant this might include their English grade in their high-school leaving certificate plus any English tests taken at their university or independently.
- Please insert appropriate information about any existing English language qualifications or test-scores and attach a copy of a document or documents evidencing this. The College will consider the evidence provided. If an English Qualification Type is not listed or you have more than one qualification which you would like to present as evidence then select “other qualification not listed above” from the drop down menu. Attach one or more documents as evidence as a single file.
- If your home university is in Australia, Canada or the United States of America the College will consider you to have met the College English Language requirements. However, please still attach the evidence requested above.
- If, on the basis of the evidence supplied, the College has concerns about a student’s English proficiency this may be discussed with their home university/college. As part of any offer of admission a student may be required to achieve a particular grade in an approved English test.
- Please note: The College is committed to supporting the English language needs of its students once they are with us. Please note that Imperial College’s Centre for Academic English is available free of charge (subject to assessment and certain conditions) to all registered/enrolled non-native English speaking students: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/academic-english
Note 6: Documents which an Exchange applicant will need to attach to TAB/Screen 4: “Additional Supporting Documents”

- (Optional) an “open” (i.e. non-confidential) academic reference/testimony.
- (Compulsory for Exchange) a self-prepared list of the courses/projects currently being undertaken at the student’s home university/college but for which they have not yet been assessed.
- (Compulsory for Exchange) a self-prepared list of courses and/or projects the student plans to take when they return to their home university/college. If a student is unsure as to their plans then they should simply provide a brief statement indicating this.

Note 7: Academic Reference

- On TAB/Screen 3 an applicant is requested to provide the name and (university/college) email address of a professor/academic tutor (a “referee”) who is able to comment confidentially on their academic performance to date (i.e. provide an academic reference/testimony). The “referee” will be contacted by the academic department which is considering the student’s study application only if required.

Who will consider your application and when/how shall you hear the outcome?

- The College will confirm (by email) receipt of an on-line study application. This email will quote an 8 digit CID Number (College Identifier Number). At the same time the applicant will also be advised by email how to access the College’s Student e-Service, where they will be able to track their on-line study application and view any decision made by the College.

- A study application will be considered by the academic department in which the applicant wishes to study. The academic department is responsible for making a decision, which will include a.) whether the study plan which has been proposed is viable (subject to possible modification due to curriculum and timetabled restrictions) and b.) whether the applicant is academically prepared to undertake the proposed study plan (including their English language competence).

- Failure to complete the on-line study application fully or to provide supporting documentation may delay consideration of an application;

- If upon review of an on-line study application the College decides that it has all the information required to make a decision, the College’s Admission Team would normally expect to communicate that decision to the applicant within 8 weeks of receipt of the on-line study application. The applicant should receive an email prompt (to check their e-Service account) when this occurs.

- However, if the academic department to which the applicant seeks admission requires further information in order to make a decision on their admission, the 8 week period will not commence until they have received that information. If additional information is required the academic department will request it from either the applicant or their home university/college.

- The decision of the academic department will be communicated to the applicant on Student e-Service. The decision will indicate whether the College considers the applicant to be an “undergraduate” or “postgraduate” student. If the exchange student plans to attend for the full academic year they should double-check that the dates offered for attendance are correct (see term dates below), and query them with the College’s Admissions Team if necessary.

- If the College sets an applicant a “condition or conditions of entry” (e.g. a language “condition”) then the applicant must have satisfied these “conditions of entry” before their admission can be confirmed. See also later section on accommodation.

- If an applicant is offered admission the College may ask them to formally accept or decline the offer. However, this is normally only for those applicants who need a visa to enter the UK, since the College normally assumes that nominated exchange students who do not need a visa to enter the UK are planning to attend.

- If an applicant is required to “accept” an offer of admission Student e-Service will also ask them “who is paying your tuition fee?” Of course, students admitted to the College as exchange students do not pay any tuition fee to Imperial College (up to a maximum period of 12 months). Therefore, we ask the applicant to answer “self-funded” to this question.

- An applicant should quote their CID number in all correspondence with the College.

- Please note that the College does not send letters confirming admission unless an applicant formally requests such a document by email or the applicant requires a short-term study visa to enter the UK to undertake their study period at Imperial College. See visa information below.

- If, at any stage, an applicant wishes to withdraw their application they should email the College Admissions Team responsible for their application (copying to exchangesstudents@imperial.ac.uk)
  - Undergraduate: https://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/ug/apply/contact/
  - Postgraduate: https://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/pg/apply/contact/

- Exchange students enrolled at Imperial College are for insurance purposes covered by the College's employer and public liability insurance policy while on campus (and off-campus if part of their study plan, e.g. a site visit).

Students who require a Visa to enter the UK for study purposes
(also known as Entry Clearance)

Full Guidance on visas is provided by our College’s International Student Support Team (which forms part of the College Academic Registry) at: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/international-students/visas-and-immigration

Specific questions concerning visas can be addressed to the International Student Support Team: international@imperial.ac.uk

The type of visa (which Imperial College will act as sponsor to) will normally depend on the length of the study period at Imperial College.

- TIER 4 (General) Student Visa for a period of studies lasting more than 6 months: If an applicant is offered admission (on Student e-Service) for more than 6 months and once they have met any conditions of entry (i.e. they have an unconditional offer of admission) the College will send the applicant an email notification that their Confirmation of Acceptance for Studies (CAS) number and details (for inclusion in their application for a TIER 4 Student Visa) are available on their Student e-Service account. A CAS number must be quoted in a TIER 4 Student Visa Application.

  - VERY IMPORTANT: A TIER 4 visa must have been obtained prior to a student travelling to the UK for the purposes of undertaking a study period at Imperial College.

  - ATAS (UK’s Academic Technology Approval Scheme): Certain applicants who require a TIER 4 Student Visa to enter the UK to study certain subject areas at either undergraduate or postgraduate level will also need to meet ATAS requirements. If this affects an applicant they will be notified on e-Service as a condition of entry, i.e. that ATAS certification is required. ATAS certification is required before Imperial College can issue a CAS number and therefore before the applicant can submit their visa application.
    - Further information on ATAS from Imperial College’s International Student Support Team: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/international-students/visas-and-immigration/atas/
    - External ATAS Website: www.gov.uk/academic-technology-approval-scheme

- Short-Term Study Visa: If an applicant is offered admission (on Student e-Service) for 6 months or less and once they have met any conditions of entry (i.e. they have an unconditional offer of admission) Imperial College will automatically send the applicant a letter (using a “signed-for” postal option) for inclusion in their short-term study visa application. Normally, a short term study visa should be obtained prior to travelling to the UK for the purposes of undertaking the study period at Imperial College, although students’ with certain nationalities can obtain it upon entry to the UK (e.g. at the airport). Check carefully. Further information on short-term study visas from our International Student Support Team at: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/international-students/visas-and-immigration/short-term-study-visa/

ACCOMMODATION INFORMATION FOR EXCHANGE STUDENTS

Information is correct at the time of writing (January 2018)

As a starting point, carefully select the option below (1 – 4) which applies to you. This will inform you as to your eligibility for a room in an Imperial College hall of residence.

1. Any student who is admitted to the College as a postgraduate for any period cannot apply for accommodation in a College hall of residence.
   - Therefore, students are advised now to consider how to secure alternative accommodation in London prior to arrival or to arrive in advance of their study period in order to have sufficient time to look for suitable accommodation. For assistance please first review the information at http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/prospective/pg/ and about Private Housing (including the specialist assistance provided by Imperial College Home Solutions) at http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/private-accommodation/

2. An Exchange student who accepts admission to Imperial College as an undergraduate (full-time) for at least a full academic year (29 September 2018 – 28 June 2019) will be guaranteed accommodation in an Imperial College hall of residence for the three terms between 29 September 2018 – 28 June 2019 IF they have:
   - submitted their on-line study applications by 15 May 2018 deadline (important: this is an additional requirement to that listed at http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/prospective/ug/how-to-apply/accommodation-guarantee/);
   - been offered admission for the said period (at least a full academic year) as an undergraduate student on Student e-Service by 15 July 2018 (important: this is an additional requirement to that listed at http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/prospective/ug/how-to-apply/accommodation-guarantee/)

- subsequently submitted their accommodation application by Friday 27 July 2018.
- and have met in full any conditions of entry (e.g. English language) and had that confirmed on Student e-Service by Friday 24 August 2018.

- Please note that an undergraduate exchange student will not be invited (i.e. receive an email from our Student Hub, who manage the College’s halls of residence) to apply for accommodation until the College has offered them admission (with or without conditions of entry) on Student e-Service. If you are offered admission to study after 15 July please email the Student Hub (quoting your CID) to ensure you receive the invitation to apply.

- Please be aware that (for those students who applied by 15 May 2018) we may not offer you admission until as late as 15 July. However, if this affects you then please be rest assured that the Institutional Student Exchange Co-ordinator (Adrian Hawkesworth) will ensure that all who wish to apply for accommodation are able to do so by the 27 July deadline.

- When you receive the email from our Student Hub inviting you to apply for accommodation please ensure that you complete and submit the application as soon as possible and no later than 27 July.
  - Please note: a student will receive more detail as to the process when they are invited to apply for accommodation.
  - Please also note that while we guarantee to offer an undergraduate exchange student (who is due to be admitted for a full academic year and complies with all the aforementioned conditions and deadlines) with a room in an undergraduate hall of residence we reserve the right to offer a place in a hall of residence and room type of our choosing. However, the College does work hard to try and place a student with due reference to their accommodation application.

- An undergraduate exchange student will receive a decision on their accommodation application in either late August or early September. An exchange student will be asked to accept or decline the offer of accommodation. Please note that you are normally given only a few days to accept or decline so if you plan to be on holiday during the summer please ensure you check your email account every day so as to not miss out.

- If you accept the offer of accommodation in a College hall of residence then you will be provided with on-line support prior to arrival (accommodation e-induction).

- Please note that if your proposed study period includes any part of the following period (30 June 2018 – 21 Sept 2018) that the Student Hub can advise you as to how and when to apply for “summer vacation undergraduate student accommodation”

- An Exchange student who accepts admission to Imperial College as an undergraduate:
  - for at least a full academic year (but applied after the 15 May on-line study application deadline)
    - or
  - for less than a full academic year but still plans to commence their study period on 29 September, 2018.

Cannot be guaranteed accommodation in a College hall of residence. However, you may still apply as rooms can become available late in September or around the start of the academic year.

- Please note that an undergraduate exchange student will not be invited to apply for accommodation (i.e. receive an email from our Student Hub, who manage the College’s halls of residence) until the College has offered them admission (with or without conditions of entry) on Student e-Service. If you are offered admission to study after 15 July please email the Student Hub (quoting your CID) to ensure you receive the invitation to apply.
Such an undergraduate student is advised to complete and submit their accommodation application by Friday 27 July 2018 (deadline) just in case the College can assist. You would also need to have met in full any conditions of entry (e.g. English language) and had that confirmed on Student e-Service by Friday 24 August 2018.

The College’s Student Hub will do its upmost to assist you, but can only allocate accommodation if it is available. Rooms in our halls of residence can become available late in September or around the start of the academic year, although if you have already arranged private accommodation by that stage this may not be beneficial.

Therefore, you are advised now to consider how to secure alternative accommodation in London prior to arrival or to arrive in advance of your study period in order to have sufficient time to look for suitable accommodation.

- For assistance please first review the information about Private Housing at http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/private-accommodation/
- Please note that if your proposed study period includes any part of the following period (29 June 2019 – 20 Sept 2019) that the Student Hub can advise you as to how and when to apply for “summer vacation undergraduate student accommodation”.

An Exchange student who accepts admission to Imperial College as an undergraduate but who plans to commence their study period at Imperial College on a date other than 29 September, 2018 cannot be guaranteed accommodation in a College hall of residence.

- However, if you still wish to apply, then you should contact the Student Hub (typically no earlier than two months before your proposed start date).
- To be considered the College needs to have confirmed your admission (having met any conditions of entry) on Student e-Service.
- The College’s Student Hub will do its upmost to assist you, but can only allocate accommodation if it is available.
- To help you, current vacancies are listed at: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/current-residents/vacancies/

Therefore, you are advised now to consider how to secure alternative accommodation in London prior to arrival or to arrive in advance of your study period in order to have sufficient time to look for suitable accommodation.

- For assistance please first review the information about Private Housing at http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/private-accommodation/
- Please note that if your proposed study period includes any part of the following period (29 June 2019 – 20 Sept 2019) that the Student Hub can advise you as to how and when to apply for “summer vacation undergraduate student accommodation”.

Please note (options 2 - 4): Undergraduate exchange students for whom applying for a room in an Imperial College hall of residence is an option (whether guaranteed or not) are not compelled to do so. It is perfectly OK for an undergraduate exchange student to decide not to apply for a room in an Imperial College hall of residence, and to make their own arrangements in the private sector.

IMPORTANT OTHER INFORMATION REGARDING ACCOMMODATION

All Exchange Students: Communicating with the Student Hub about accommodation

- It is in the interest of all students to reply swiftly to any correspondence received from the Student Hub, especially if you are offered a room in a hall of residence. However, the College handles a large amount of correspondence from applicants and you must be patient in waiting for a response. The Student Hub aims to respond to emails within 2 working days, so please do not expect to receive a response the same day: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/

All Exchange Students: Please note the following:

- Imperial College halls of residence (for undergraduates only) are normally self-catering with some located within a reasonable walking distance of the South Kensington Campus and...

others a 30-45 minute distance away by tube/bus. The specific halls of residence available to exchange students in 2018-19 have yet to be determined and this will be communicated when a student is invited to apply for accommodation (the list of available halls of residence will be limited to two or three). Therefore, when you are reading about our undergraduate halls of residence please take this into account. Click on: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/ specifically: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/halls/ug/ and http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/halls/compare/

- Imperial College halls of residence (for undergraduates only) offer a variety of accommodation, and prices vary between the halls which are available. Usually you can save money by sharing with another student; however, this solution has to be considered carefully.

- If the College cannot provide accommodation in a hall of residence OR you decide to reject any offer of College accommodation OR you just prefer to do your own thing your option would be to look for a room in the private sector.
  - In general, unlike in some European countries, to rent a flat in London can be an expensive option. You may need to share to keep costs down.
  - For assistance you are strongly advised to first review the information about Private Housing at: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/study/campus-life/accommodation/private-accommodation/
  - Be prepared to arrive before your study period commences in order to find a place to live.
  - The College can provide expert assistance with housing contracts (if you need advice).

- The College cannot accommodate partners, dependants or children.

Do you have a disability?

At any point during the study and accommodation application processes (and whilst registered/enrolled as a student of the College) exchange students who have a disability should be aware that the College’s Disabilities Advisory Service is available to discuss any matter concerning access and accommodation, as well as any general concerns an individual may have. The Disabilities Advisory Service has a comprehensive website at: http://www.imperial.ac.uk/disability-advisory-service/

What is a disability? A disability is any long-term condition that has a substantial impact on your ability to study effectively, such as:
- a specific learning difficulty, e.g. dyslexia, dysgraphia
- an enduring mental health condition, e.g. depression, OCD, generalised anxiety disorder
- a visual, hearing or other sensory impairment
- a long-term medical condition, e.g. IBS, ME, diabetes
- a social/communication difficulty, e.g. autistic spectrum/Asperger’s syndrome
- a mobility or dexterity issue

Tuition Fees: Other possible charges

- Exchange students do not pay tuition fees to Imperial College (up to a maximum period of 12 months). However, such students can expect to continue paying any tuition fees required of them by their home institution.

- The host academic department should indicate any compulsory miscellaneous financial charges that are applicable to an exchange student while they are a student in their department.

- The host academic department should indicate whether any of these charges (un-refundable; refundable) are associated with items an exchange student may already have as a student of that discipline at their home university/college, and therefore are possibly not relevant. A couple of random examples might be a requirement to have a hard safety helmet or a lab coat, items which you may already possess.

- Most departments provide a student with a photocopying allowance.
Cost of Living

- It is important to note that living in London can be expensive and an exchange student should consider seriously how they will fund their time in London.
  - Information and advice on living costs can be found at managing your money (UG) or managing your money (PG);
  - for an independent viewpoint see Study London http://www.studylondon.ac.uk/application-advice/cost-of-studying-in-london (Please note that the Study London website is for all types of students applying to London universities and covers all sorts of issues/topics, so please do not get distracted by the “application” pages etc!!).

- It is the responsibility of an exchange student’s home university/college to inform them as to their eligibility for any scholarships (e.g. Erasmus Study Grant).

- It is an exchange student’s responsibility to ensure they have sufficient financial resources for their whole study period.

- Please note that Imperial College does not provide any specific grants/scholarships for exchange students.

Imperial College Union: ERASMUS Club

- All registered students of Imperial College London are automatically members of the Imperial College Union. The Imperial College Union represents the student body, and its website, contains links to its many societies and clubs: www.imperialcollegeunion.org

- Imperial College has an ERASMUS Club - one of the Imperial College Students’ Union’s many clubs and societies. The ERASMUS Club is run by Imperial College students and was established in 1998 to help exchange and other visiting students at Imperial College get the most out of their time at the College and assist Imperial College students planning to go abroad. The ERASMUS Club is open to everybody and has a range of activities such as pub evenings, club nights, excursions to other areas of the UK, parties and untraditional sightseeing events. The Club is affiliated to ESN (Erasmus Student Network).

- Exchange students starting on 29 September, 2018 will receive information from the Club during September 2018. Their contact email address is erasmus@imperial.ac.uk. The College’s “Orientation Information for Visiting Students” which an exchange student can expect to receive prior to their arrival also makes reference to the Erasmus Club and provides their contact details.

About our Orientation Information
For students whose admission to Imperial College is confirmed.

You should consult our orientation information prior to arrival at Imperial College

A. Exchange students (non-degree) admitted to start their studies at Imperial College on 29 September 2018. The Orientation Information is published in early September, and will be emailed to you.

B. Exchange students (non-degree) admitted to start their studies at Imperial College at other times during the academic year. The Orientation Information is published in early October, and will be available on the same webpage you obtained this guidance note.

- Exchange students who commence at the beginning of the academic year are invited to a specific welcome event for new international students on Sunday 30 September, 2018 and are greatly encouraged to take part in normal orientation events for new students during the first week of the academic year, such as Faculty Welcomes; the Freshers Fair (clubs and societies); sports trials etc etc).
