Programme Overview

The MSc in International Management (MIM) is offered over 12 months full-time. The programme content reflects the contemporary and relevant management skills necessary for managing in turbulent environments. In particular, the programme will equip the participants with conceptual and practical tools to enable them to analyse and solve challenging problems.

The programme comprises 8 compulsory modules, and a choice of electives that run across the spring and summer terms including modules in global partner universities studying abroad. All students are required to take the triply weighted Leadership in Action module which runs over all three terms. The Leadership in Action module comprises a mixture of lectures, coaching sessions and workshops, and a week abroad working with local companies on a design thinking project.

In addition, students are required to go abroad for 2 days for a European Immersion to experience first-hand the socio-economic and business environment within another European country.

Students are also required to register for one language (other than English) using the Business School's languages app and either pass the final test or spend 20 hours on the language app throughout the course of the academic session. Alternatively, students may attend a College evening language course. It may be possible to waive this requirement for those who hold a language qualification or are fluent in a language other than English.

Alongside their academic modules, students take a compulsory Career Development module throughout the year. The Career Development module consists of a series of workshops that support students in defining their own ambitious and realistic career goals and equips them with the knowledge and skills they need to achieve these goals and be successful in the future.

Before they start the programme, students are given access to on-line interactive primers in Accounting, Maths, Data Analysis, Finance and Study Skills in addition to an online Careers primer (Foundations for Careers Success). These modules do not contribute to the calculation of the final award but are designed to provide students with a common base of knowledge before starting the programme. Teaching Assistant support is provided online over the summer. Financial Management, Business Economics, Decision Analytics and Advanced Corporate Finance face-to-face support classes are provided as part of the programme.

All MSc students in the Business School are required to complete the Plagiarism Awareness primer as part of their programme.

Further academic support is provided through workshops delivered by the Library (e.g. RefWorks, Plagiarism Awareness and Skills for Report Writing). Students also have access to the Business School's Global Skills Development consultants who provide tailored team-building workshops and language support sessions promoting cross-cultural working and global awareness.

Learning Outcomes

Students who complete the programme successfully will be able to:

- Evaluate organisations in their role of pursuing sustainable business strategies within the context they operate and how they are managed in compliance with codes of ethics and Corporate Social Responsibility
- Select and apply analytical and problem-solving techniques to the decision-making process in real-life business contexts and present the analysis and recommendations in a professional and persuasive manner.
- Create viable solutions for organisations in a technology-driven environment based on a holistic view of management challenges using interdisciplinary knowledge and cross-subject skills

Learning & Teaching Approach

Learning and Teaching Delivery Methods

The programme combines academic rigour and practical relevance. There is a careful balance of teaching and learning, individual and group work. Case study methodology and class-based discussions are used to strengthen the conceptual, analytical and problem-solving skills of the participants in real situations. In addition, there are regular seminars by external expert speakers.

Independent learning

Students are expected to spend significant time on independent study outside of face-to-face contact time. This will typically include accessing resources online, reading journal articles and books, undertaking research in the library, reviewing lecture notes and watching lecture recordings, working on individual and group projects, working on coursework assignments and revising for exams.

Active Learning

There is a strong focus on active learning throughout the programme with many compulsory modules including participation as part of their assessment, and a flipped-classroom approach for Financial Management. In addition, all parts of the Leadership in Action module include workshops to enable students to apply their learning as they progress through the module.

Projects and placements

All students are required to undertake a design thinking project abroad as part of their Leadership in Action module.

They may also choose to take either a Consulting Project, Social Project Study or Work Placement as an elective.

The Consulting Projects are real-world projects proposed by external companies. Students take on the role of junior consultants for 4 weeks and present their solutions to a company representative and faculty member at the end of the module.

Alternatively, students can find a Work Placement and work in a company for a minimum of 4 weeks in the summer after their on-campus electives are over, applying the skills and knowledge they have acquired in a work environment. Students submit a reflective piece at the end of the module describing the learning they have gained during this period.

Students that are interested in working for a social enterprise or an NGO can also opt for a Social Project. This can take the form of either a piece of consultancy or can be a work placement inside the organisation.

Overall Workload

The overall workload consists of face-to-face sessions and independent learning. While the actual contact hours may vary according to the elective modules students choose to study, the following gives an indication of how much time they will need to allocate to different activities at each level of the programme. At Imperial, each ECTS taken equates to an expected total study time of 25 hours. Therefore, the expected total study time is 2,250 hours per year.

On average during the year, students are expected to spend around 25% of their time in the classroom, 50% on independent study and group work, 17% on careers and personal development and 8% of their time on other activities (e.g. social, leisure, clubs). Class sizes are typically 60 students, and group work is normally conducted in syndicate teams of 5-6 students.

Assessment Strategy

Assessment Methods

Modules will be assessed by one or more of the following types of assessment methods:

- Essays
- Continuous assessments
- Written Examinations/Tests
- Multiple Choice Tests
- Formal Presentations
- Reports
- Case Studies
- Class Participation

Assessed modules comprise coursework that is designed to help you master key elements of the subject and, in part, to help prepare you for the final assessment, which is typically a report or examination. Examinations are scheduled throughout the year, generally at the end of the term the module is taught or at the start of the subsequent term. Exact timings are detailed in the programme overview section above. The format of examinations may be written, computer-based or timed remote assessment.

Coursework weighting varies among modules. The various assessments allow you to demonstrate that you have met the intended learning outcomes for each module and these collectively contribute towards your achievement of the programme's learning outcomes, detailed above.

Assessments are designed to ensure that you have acquired the core knowledge and skills expected of a Business School graduate and that you are able to apply these in your career aspirations upon completion of the programme

Feedback can take many forms. You will receive written feedback on all coursework along with other forms of feedback such as verbal feedback on presentations.
