Programme Overview

The Weekend MBA is intensive and is offered part time over 23 months starting in January. The programme is aimed at mid-career professionals seeking to develop the knowledge, skills and value systems required to advance to positions of responsibility and leadership within organisations. The programme emphasises purposeful leadership, an innovative mindset and practice-relevant application, to be pursued as part of cohorts that are highly international, diverse and united by a common desire to achieve high impact.

First year attendance is held over one long weekend a month from January to December (Friday (full day), Saturday (full day) and Sunday morning). The second year includes varied attendance based on choice of electives, the Global Experience Week and the Capstone Consulting Experience. Attendance requirements vary, depending on which electives are chosen. There is a total of up to 24 in-person attendance days during the electives.

The programme combines academic rigour and practical relevance. There is a careful balance of teaching and learning, individual and group work. Case study methodology and class-based discussions are used to strengthen the conceptual, analytical and problem-solving skills of the participants in real situations. It may be possible for projects to be carried out partly or wholly at an external organisation and requests will be considered on a case by case basis.

The programme comprises 12 compulsory modules (including a Global Experience Week, and the Capstone Consulting Experience) and a choice of six elective modules which cover all of the key management and business disciplines. The programme also uses a number of integrative modules to bring learning together and allow you to develop and put into practice what you have covered in the compulsory modules.

Learning Outcomes

The programme aims to provide both a conceptual foundation in management which draws on insights from academic research into management and business practice, an application-focused guidance on problems and practices in modern management.

Programme Learning Outcomes

By the end of the programme, you will be able to:

- Analyse organisations and their environment, using analytical tools from all management disciplines, as well as selected areas of specialisation
- Evaluate the sustainability of organisations' strategy and performance, taking into account the whole spectrum of stakeholders
- Select analytical techniques to apply to decision-making processes in organisations and to present your analyses clearly and persuasively;
- Apply innovative thinking and leadership to the management of industry, services and enterprise on an international basis;
- Demonstrate you have developed your personal skills to enhance your effectiveness as leaders and as managers.

Learning & Teaching Approach

Learning and Teaching Delivery Methods

Teaching
The programme combines academic rigour and practical relevance. There is a careful balance of teaching and learning, individual and group work. Case study methodology and class-based discussions are used to strengthen the conceptual, analytical and problem-solving skills of the participants in real situations. In addition, there are regular seminars by external expert speakers.

- Lectures
- Practical classes and field work (eg Global Experience Weeks)
- Equipment/technique demonstrations (e.g. Bloomberg, DataStream)
- Seminars
- Workshops
- Case studies
- Group work exercises
- Formal presentations

Independent learning
You are expected to spend significant time on independent study outside of face-to-face contact time. This will typically include accessing resources online, reading journal articles and books, undertaking research in the library, reviewing lecture notes and watching lecture recordings, working on individual and group projects, working on coursework assignments and revising for exams.

- Pre-programme primer modules
- On-line discussion forums
- On-line lecture materials
- Interactive content including video and module quizzes

Overall Workload
The overall workload consists of face-to-face sessions and independent learning. While the actual contact hours may vary according to the elective modules you choose to study, the following gives an indication of how much time you will need to allocate to different activities at each level of the programme. At Imperial, each ECTS credit taken equates to an expected total study time of 25 hours. Therefore, the expected total study time is 2,250 hours for the MBA programme.

Assessment Strategy

Assessment Methods

Modules will be assessed by one or more of the following types of assessment methods:

- Essays
- Continuous assessments
- Written Examinations/Tests
- Multiple Choice Tests
- Formal Presentations
- Reports
- Case Studies
- Class Participation

Assessed modules comprise coursework that is designed to help you master key elements of the subject and, in part, to help prepare you for the final assessment, which is typically a report or examination. Examinations are scheduled throughout the year, generally at the end of the term the module is taught or at the start of the subsequent term. Exact timings are detailed in the programme overview section above. The format of examinations may be written, computer-based or timed remote assessment.

Coursework weighting varies among modules. The various assessments allow you to demonstrate that you have met the intended learning outcomes for each module and these collectively contribute towards your achievement of the programme's learning outcomes, detailed above.

Assessments are designed to ensure that you have acquired the core knowledge and skills expected of a Business School graduate and that you are able to apply these in your career aspirations upon completion of the programme

Balance of assessment (this is indicative and may vary)
Compulsory modules
Coursework – 80%
Exam – 20%

Electives
Coursework – 100%

Academic Feedback Policy

Feedback can take many forms. During lectures and classes, you will receive verbal feedback on the ideas that you contribute to discussions and on in-class presentations. The online teaching materials contain exercises with built-in, immediate, feedback that is received when you submit an answer.
The School aims to provide feedback on coursework within two weeks. This will be sent in written form to the individual or the group, as appropriate. Academic staff may also provide verbal feedback of a general nature in class or posted to our virtual learning environment. Office hours offered on all modules also provide an opportunity for individual feedback.

The School aims to provide provisional examination grades 25 working days from the end of the exam period. General feedback to the cohort is provided on examination performance, usually in written form. If you need to resit an examination, you may also approach the module leader for feedback on your sperformance in the first sitting.

You will be provided with a percentage grade for coursework and examinations with the final numerical mark only confirmed after the Board of Examiners Meeting and then released by Registry. Grades received during the year are deemed provisional until confirmed by the Final Board of Examiners.

[1] Core modules are those which serve a fundamental role within the curriculum, and for which achievement of the credits for that module is essential for the achievement of the target award. Core modules must therefore be taken and passed in order to achieve that named award. Compulsory modules are those which are designated as necessary to be taken as part of the programme syllabus. Compulsory modules can be compensated. Elective modules are those which are in the same subject area as the field of study and are offered to students in order to offer an element of choice in the curriculum and from which students are able to select. Elective modules can be compensated.

[2] All Business School modules are weighted relative to their ECTS value. Exchange modules taken at partner institutions are graded pass/fail and are zero weighted. If passed, the ECTS gained will count towards those required to achieve the target award, but performance in these modules will not further affect the degree classification.
